WELCOME

To our new Superintendent, Mr. W. S. Wood, we, the members of the Senior Class, in behalf of the entire student body and faculty, wish to extend a sincere welcome.

Mr. Wood came to Lodi last fall from Wake-man, Ohio, where he had established a fine reputation. He has proved his ability as administrator already and has established educational and disciplinary policies which are sound and just. We feel that Lodi is fortunate to have secured the services of a man of Mr. Wood's ability and judgment.

It is a difficult matter to maintain high educational standards in these times of war. Our school has suffered less in this respect than many schools, due to the fact that we have retained a capable administrator and teaching staff.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1932, twenty-three shy children ascended the long walk to the red brick building on the hill. (It's hard to believe that we were once shy, isn't it?) Some of these children were accompanied by mothers, fathers, sisters or brothers, while others were like lost sheep, stranded from the flock. It was a great day for this group. Some cried, some screamed, some smiled, others just had that "blank" look that so becomes children. Miss O'Hara greeted us and soon made us feel at ease. This group included Burton Bowman, Robert Howell, Jean Leatherman, Doris Hagans, Genevieve Fosnight, Vivian Elliott, Necia McClain, Donna McDaniel, Mary Musser, Virginia Rice, Martha Rice, Robert Cash, Lois Seward, Lester Seward, Harold Seifert, Harry Zimmerman, Elizabeth Slater, Irene Smith, Tom Whitright, Betty Yergin, David Rice, George Grannis, and Marjorie Unangst.

September, 1933, found this same group waiting again for the beloved day to arrive. That year we knew what to expect and Mrs. Whitney taught our class. In the third grade, Miss Vanosdal was our teacher. And then came the fourth grade. Betty Fetzner joined our class. Miss Eppley was our sponsor that year. Donald Hoge, Norma Tawse, Nancy Worden, and Lovetta Schar added their names to our class enrollment in the Fifth grade and Miss Edwards was our teacher. By this time school had "grown on us" and we liked it. Our teacher for the sixth grade was Miss Blust. Three new students, Marjorie Bowers, Robert Horner, and Roland Dague, entered. When the eventful day in September, 1938, arrived again we were once more shy in starting back to school. We were in the seventh grade and were quite grown up. Everything was different that year--high school building, changing classes, no more recesses, assembly programs and the privilege of using the library. The next year found us occupying seats in the eighth grade, with Mr. Skurvid as our teacher.

At last! We could hardly believe it. We were really in high school. Yes--Freshmen. What a climb that was but we made it. Our class was divided into two groups and put in separate rooms, with Miss Skala and Miss Heistand as homeroom teachers. The Lafayette students who joined our class were: Joseph Toth, Jean Carlton, Robert Toth, Dan Haller, James Baker, Stanley Hall, Edward Selepchak, Olga

Pidzyraylo, Peg White, Merle Shaw, Blake Auble, Virginia Benyak, Bill Carlton, Andrew Krupar, James Toth, Charles Vogt, and Thomas White. Gale Williamson and Joanne Smith also entered. We were traditionally the "silly" freshmen. (We never outgrew it, did we?)

Mr. Caton was our class sponsor in our Sophomore year and two new students, Frances Ballard and Nancy Braden were admitted. It was that year that we were the proud winners of the booby prize for our assembly program.

Our Junior year was a very eventful one. Mr. Caton was our sponsor again. (I guess that proves we're not so bad. He seems to have lived through it.) Paul Norris was the only person entering our class. We were indeed proud when we walked away with the first prize for our float in the Fall Fair. We also won first prize in the paper drive. Yes, we were just naturally smart, not pure lucky like everyone else believed and tried to make us believe. Our Junior-Senior banquet was certainly a gala affair, and "It's Papa Who Pays", our Junior Class Play was a great success.

Finally, after all these years, we were Seniors. Funny, we didn't feel any different, but the name sounded big and you have no idea what it meant to us. Allan Warnes joined our class and Lovetta Schar rejoined, having left in the seventh grade. Miss Mowrey was our sponsor. In our Senior year we lost several boys to Uncle Sam: David Rice, Robert Horner, and George Grannis. Our Senior Class Play, "Thumbs Up," a comedy, was our last contribution on the stage. Many swell times were had when we put that on. As Seniors, we again won first prize on the float for the Fall Fair. The Junior-Senior banquet was another affair we will never forget. The Juniors should certainly be congratulated on the fine time they gave us.

Yes, the Senior year was something we will never forget. When we thought of ourselves as Seniors we felt both old and young. Old, when we thought over the twelve long years we had gone to school and the many wonderful times we had together, and young, when we thought of the long life we had ahead of us. We had to get out into the world and help ourselves, we no longer could depend on our parents and teachers for our decisions. After all, that was what school was for, "to prepare us for life."

SENIOR CLASS WILL OF 1944

We, the members of the Senior Class of Lodi High School of 1944, being sound of mind and independent in spirit (just ask our teachers) do solemnly swear this to be our last will and testament. We, the party of the first part, do bequeath the following personal and real property, to the parties of the second part herein named:

SECTION I

- Article I-----We, the members of the Senior Class, leave the school in a better condition than which we found it.
- Article II-----To Mr. Wood we leave our interested and undivided attention in his government classes.
- Article III---To Miss Mowrey we give our best wishes in her new job at B-U College.
- Article IV-----To Mr. Lindecamp we leave our sunny dispositions, but in return we request a list of his old parking places, since he has no further use for them.
- Article V-----To the other members of the faculty we bequeath our quietness.
- Article VI-----To the Junior Class we leave all our old un-made-up detention hall slips and our autographs on the desks.
- Article VII---To the Sophomore Class we will Mr. Lindecamp's list of parking places (for post-war use when gas is once more obtainable).
- Article VIII--To the Freshmen we leave our ability to get along with teachers--to start them out on the right foot.

SECTION II

- Article I-----James Baker wills his quietness to Rose Pidzyraylo.
- Article II-----Frances Ballard leaves her technique for chewing gum to Lois Indoe.
- Article III---Marjorie Bowers wills her enormous collection of pins, lockets, bracelets, souvenirs, and other junk to the Smithsonian Institute for the 25th Century Exhibition.
- Article IV-----Burton Bowman leaves his fondness for blonds to Duane Houston.
- Article V-----Nancy Braden leaves her ability to memorize and quote to Pus White.
- Article VI-----Robert Cash wills his 35-mile an hour speed limit to Harvey Mace, who also doesn't seem to be afraid of the State Patrol.
- Article VII---Jean Carlton wills her flashy yellow sweater to Betty Smith so that she can capture a sergeant in the Marines.

Article VIII--Roland Dague wills his pleasing personality to Charles Burkey.

Article IX----Vivian Elliott wills Junior's reserved seat at at the Idol theater to the future usher's boyfriend.

Article X-----Betty Fetzner leaves all her soldiers, sailors, and marines to the City of Lodi in case they establish a canteen some day.

Article XI---Genevieve Fosnight wills her platinum blond hair Margaret Strouse.

Article XII--George Grannis leaves his car to Duane Rowe, until he gets back, of course.

Article XIII-Doris Hagans wills her ability to sit with the West Salem kids on Saturday nights to Phyllis McClain.

Article XIV--Stanley Hall wills his quiet manner to Tom Sabo.

Article XV---Dan Haller gives his nose to Mildred Gage, in case she doesn't like hers.

Article XVI--Donald Hoge wills his "mushy" parts in plays to Edgar Snell and hopes that Edgar enjoys them as much as he did.

Article XVII-Robert Horner wasn't here to will anything, since he is in the Navy, so he wills his home room seat to Wanda Garberich.

Article XVIII-Robert Howell wills his new hair-do (he is the only Senior boy who thinks enough of his hair to change the part in it) and his long fingernails to June Bigley.

Article XIX---Jean Leatherman and Marjorie Unangst will their good clean fun to Donna Bachtel and Martha Hoffmeister.

Article XX----Necia McClain wills her ability to recite in class to Betty Dull.

Article XXI---Donna McDaniel gives all the little Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior boys back to their classes in the hopes that the girls will appreciate them as much as she did.

Article XXII---Mary Musser says that she has nothing to leave, so she just leaves. (period)

Article XXIII--Paul Norris leaves his mannish figure and curly hair to Joe Warner.

Article XXIV---Olga Pidzyraylo wills her sedate and dignified manner to Joyce Vandemark.

Article XXV----David Rice leaves his winning smile to Dale Christy and hopes that Dale profits by it.

Article XXVI---Martha Rice wills her love for fighting to anyone who dates Eugene in the future.

Article XXVII-Virginia Rice loans her twin brother, Dave, to Uncle Sam until the war is over.

Article XXVIII-Harold Seifert wills his record of three terms as president to Franklin Roosevelt. Maybe Frank can even beat Harold's record.

Article XIX---Edward Selephchak wills his cuteness to --well, we won't mention any names but there are some who need it.

Article XXX---Lois and Lester Seward will their brotherly and sisterly love for each other to Jean and Jim LaFollette.
 Article XXXI--Merle Shaw wills his job as operator of the movie projector to Marian Reusch, since she is the only girl in electricity class.
 Article XXXII--Inez Shriver wills her life on the farm to Alice Dearth.
 Article XXXIII--Elizabeth Slater wills her thinness to anyone who likes candy, pies, cakes, and other sweets.
 Article XXXIV--Irene Smith leaves all her old boyfriends to Roberta Basom, since Irene is engaged.
 Article XXXV--Joanne Smith wills her musical talents to Chet Aukerman. Maybe Chet can learn to play boogy-woogy.
 Article XXXVI--Norma Tawse wills her love for "big hods" to Sue Crum. Even a short one would do, Sue says.
 Article XXXVII--Joe Toth wills his red hair and freckles to Jim Underwood.
 Article XXXVIII--Bob Toth wills his violent temper to Twila Whightman.
 Article XXXIX--Allan Warnes wills his oratorical ability to Joan Krantz.
 Article XL-----Peggy White wills her letter writing and her quotation, "It said in the book," to her brother Bob.
 Article XLI----Tom Whitright leaves his large vocabulary to Frank Szikula.
 Article XLII---Lovetta Schar leaves her letter writing in school and all her servicemen's addresses to Mildred Ballard.
 Article XLIII--Gale Williamson wills his dignified and reverently ways to Jim LaFollette.
 Article XLIV---Nancy Worden leaves her boisterous nature to Sally Braden.
 Article XLV----Betty Yergin wills her scads of clothes to Bundles for Britian.
 Article XLVI---Jack Ziegler wills his jalopy to the scrap metal drive.
 Article XLVII--Harry Zimmerman wills his art for class discussions to Tub Sommer. (Tubby is doing fine already.)"

SECTION III

Article I--The Senior Class, as a whole, wills the ability to co-operate and to have fun together to the rest of the school.

The above stated is the Will of the Class of 1944 witnessed and signed this 19th day of MAY in the year 1944.

Senior Farewell

by Frances Ballard

Farewell, we say to you, Farewell,
Farewell to teachers, books and school
We are leaving; it's our fate
We'll need your guiding rule--
Farewell,

Farewell to all classes, Farewell,
We'll miss you, you don't know how much
We can't relive the fun we've had
At dances, parties, shows and such--
Farewell.

Farewell to our classmates, Farewell.
Remember the plays, fun and fights.
We'll each go our way in the world
But love is an eternal light--
Farewell.

Post War

by Frances Ballard

They will all return to you some day,
A husband, a father, a son.
We must prepare to meet them,
For the heroic deeds they've done.

It's not heroism they seek.
It's respect, not sympathy,
And love such as we can give
To help rebuild our democracy

Meet them as they meet us,
"Just glad that the war is done"
We will have to adapt ourselves,
They've changed--But the war is won.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Scene: Lodi High School Gymnasium
What: Reunion of the Class of 1944
Time: 1954, 6:00 P. M.
This is some banquet--not a bore.

The whole class is gathered 'round
They were scattered, both far and near,
But this is a big celebration
And every member will be here.

Heading our table is Sam Hall
He certainly had good luck
From school house to a "White House"--
He's now president of the Muck.

The Chairman is an auctioneer,
Her voice is loud, clear and strong,
Olga Pidzyraylo was quiet
We had her pictured all wrong.

Lois Seward cooked the meal
And it really was a treat.
She had Inez Shriver to help
And as cooks they can't be beat.

The food was served by Betty Fetzner
That's her occupation now, you see.
She slings hash in a restaurant
And is the waitress for you and me.

As I look all around the room
I can remember each classmate.
They really haven't changed very much,
To bring us together was fate.

Gale Williamson didn't surprise us
"The Reverend" was his nickname.
He's now a Methodist preacher,
And his future will be the same.

Seated next is David Rice
Who was always ready for work
Now a soda jerker at Elmer's--
(Perhaps I should say just a "jerk".)

Joanne Smith, known as "Smitty,"
Has a talent which is new
She's a bare-back rider in a circus
A stunt done by only a few.

Allen Warnes has all our pity
"Arsenic and Old Lace" did him harm
He still thinks he's Teddy Roosevelt
His cell in Massillion has no charm.

Lovetta Schar could not decide
Which service man she liked the best
So she owns a war veterans' home
Where they all get quiet and rest.

Ushering at the Idol did good
It was a background for her life
She ushers in the cattle now--
Vee Elliott's a dairyman's wife.

Jean Carlton is married now
She has twelve children to feed
They are all like marionettes--
And she's teaching them to read.

Do you remember Merle Shaw?
He ran the movie machine
He changed from "runner" to actor--
As a second Gable, he's keen.

Elizabeth Slater has changed--
She ate some sweet candy one night.
In the morning she joined the circus
As the fat lady, she's a sight.

Doris Hagans and Betty Yergin--
They were always light on their feet.
As a pair of ballet dancers
They invented steps which were neat.

Dan Haller has seen the whole world
Australia, Brazil, India
For he's Eleanor Roosevelt's driver
As you know, traveling's her mania.

Don Hoge, Paul Norris, Tom Whitright,
The "Three Stooges" of Hollywood,
They're still genuine wolves at heart
They wouldn't reform if they could.

One member didn't quite succeed
Joseph Toth was everyone's chum
He really was smart in school
But now he's just a bum.

James Baker is still a farmer
He'll have to milk twenty cows.
We were hoping he wouldn't be late
After he had also fed his sows.

Frances Ballard is taking down notes
She represents the press
As editor of the New York Times
She does alright, I guess.

Roland Dague is still working at Bensons
But he's climbed the ladder of success
He's now the head manager
And a "big shot" more or less.

Bob Horner, the male blond bomb-shell
Still has use for all his paints
His job calls for painting ships
He prefers: Wine, Women, Song and Saints.

Taking his own jalopies
He began a local junk yard--
Jack Ziegler was always destructive
So tearing down cars isn't hard.

To deliver singing telegrams
Harry Zimmerman is a wow
He used to be late for things
And he's still late, even now.

Mostly we read her articles
But now we meet her face to face
Martha Rice advises the love-lorn
She's taking Dorothy Dix's place.

Lester Seward went to college
He studied hard for four long terms
But now he drives a garbage wagon
And rids people of flies and germs.

Genevieve Fosnight and Peggy White,
Together they're quite a pair,
Sharpening pencils in factories--
No wonder they have gray hair!

We remember the Leroy dances
Nancy Worden cutting a rug
She has improved these ten years
Now she's the champion jitterbug.

If ever you visit Dogpatch
Stop in at Little Abner's store
He has a model named Bob Cash
Modeling zoot-suits by the score.

The children are having fun
They're all getting excellant care
With Virginia Rice as guardian
A more capable nursemaid is rare.

A new author has been discovered
He has risen rapidly to fame
His book, "Another Day Has Come"
Has made Ed Selepchak a famous name.

Truck driving was her ambition
Marjorie Unangst always wanted this
She finally learned her lesson
A truck driver's life is not bliss.

Nancy Braden and Irene Smith
They are our farmer's wives
In coveralls and straw hats
They were interested in farms all their lives.

American! Readers Digest! Time!
That line is Necia McClain's call
Buy all your magazines from her,
And help her through college this fall.

Harold Seifert was always tall
With head up in a cloud
He's the world's best pilot of blimps
He has a reason to be proud.

Admiral in the United States Navy
That required a promotion
George Grannis was called from school
Which also caused a commotion.

Baseball is Robert Toth's favorite
He made this profession his life
In newspapers he's "second Babe Ruth",
But he's called just "Babe" by his wife.

Yes, these people have all been around
They are finished eating, I see.
We will start the entertainment
To amuse both you and me.

The program starts with Margie Bowers,
Lana Burner, is now her name.
She's a great actress on Broadway
Starring in "Three Bags and a Sack Came."

A monstrosity of nature is ours tonight,
Burton Bowman will put on his show.
He's a hairy freak in a Burlesque show,
His act isn't perfect--just so, so.

Jean Leatherman is a bubble dancer
But she won't be able to dance tonight
She forgot to bring along her bubble--
To dance without it wouldn't be right.

Next we will hear Mary Musser
Yes, she still is singing a song.
But not in movies or opera
But in beer joints all night long.

A fortune teller is ready
To reveal our future life
Yes, it's Donna McDaniel
But to tell the truth is strife.

Then Robert "Sinatra" Howell sang--
The women all swooned and screamed
For a sideline he's a beautician
The same as we always dreamed.

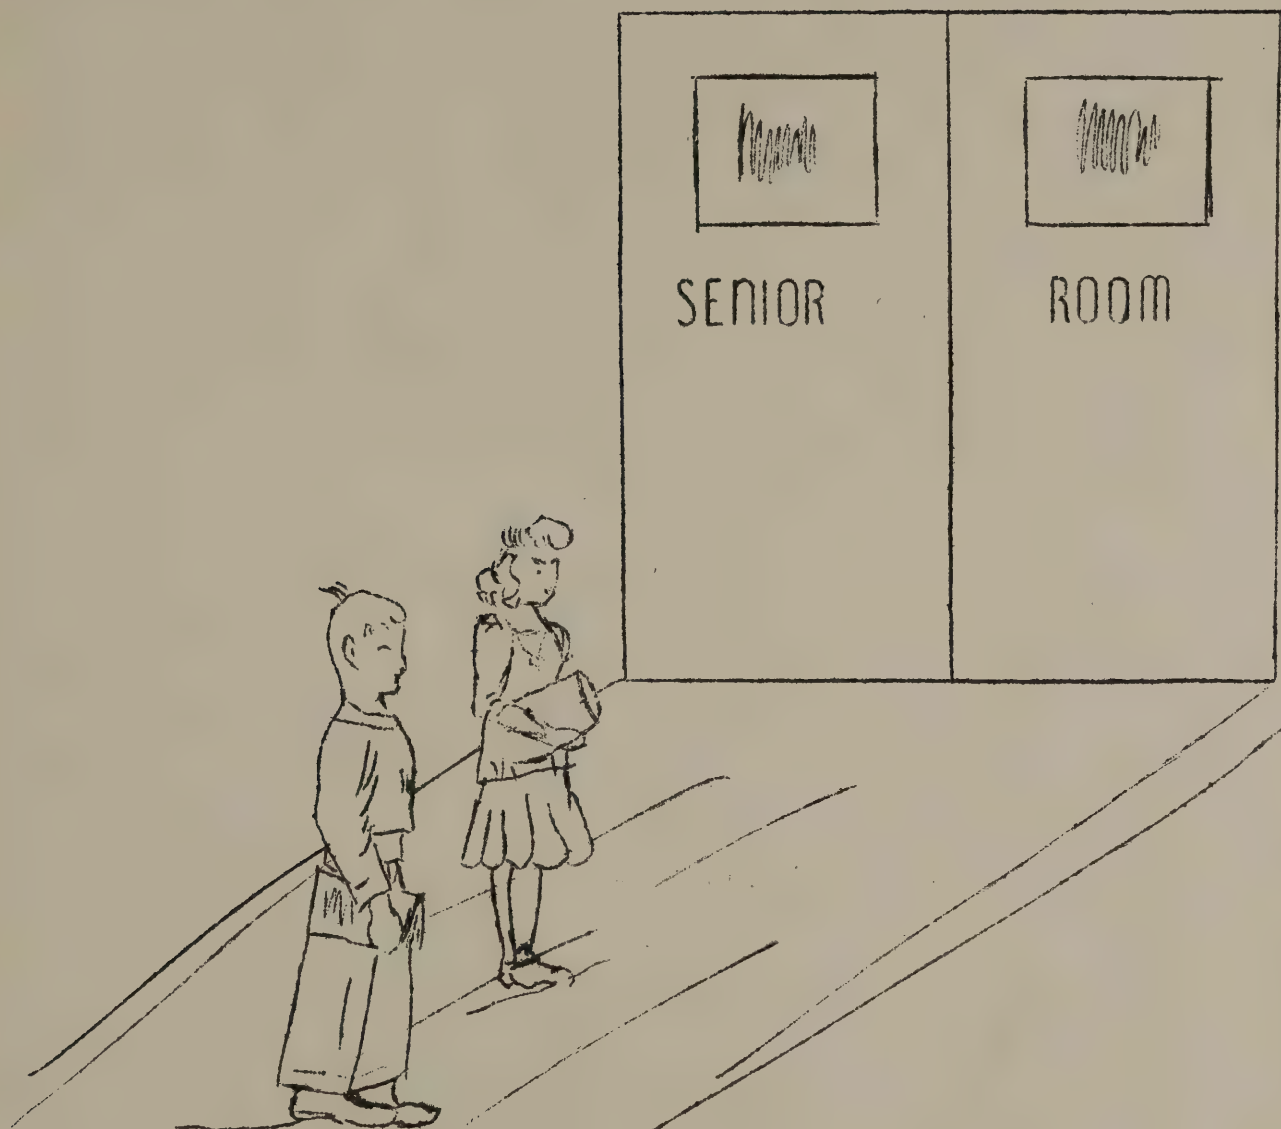

We don't want any rough stuff
Not an argument or a brawl
For we have Norma Tawse, "The Bouncer",
She can through out the large or the small.

The food was good
We enjoyed every minute
We sure had fun
And our hearts were really in it.

The celebration is all over
We all can breathe a sigh
It was fun while it lasted
But it's ended--so now "good-bye".

GRADES

Eighth Grade-Mrs. Lindecamp

Alspach, Margaret	Hopkins, Dean	Reusch, Earleen
Aukerman, Lewis	Horner, Delores	Rice, Lee
Bensinger, Grover	House, Eloise	Ripley, Roger
Berry, Betty	Houston, Donald	Strouse, Robert
Blackburn, James	Klinect, James	Trukovich, Joe
Bowers, Furman	Kobb, June	Unangst, James
Brinker, Shirley	Krantz, Alan	Vandermark, Robert
Clouse, Virginia	Lance, Boyd	Warner, Jack
Cook, Clyde	Leatherman, Tom	Whitacre, John
Flanagan, Vera	McDaniels, Merle	Wohlford, Eileen
Ginter, Edmund	Neenan, Neysa	Zedlar, Carl
Hershberger, Irene	Pickering, Junior	Ziegler, Jeannine
Hoff, Georgia	Repp, Myrtle

Thirty-eight pupils make up the Eighth Grade. They took Industrial Arts and Home Economics the first semester and Science the second semester besides their usual subjects. Charles Pickering, Roger Ripley and Earleen Reusch entered during the year while Beverley Martin and Eugene Noah withdrew. The members of the class were very proud of having won 2nd place in the Fall Fair Parade contest.

Seventh Grade-Mr. Williams

Alspach, Geraldine	Ginter, Mary	Norton, Evelyn
Arnold, Patricia	Hastings, Dorothy	Norton, Mary
Aukerman, Milo	Imhoff, Betty	Reed, Shirley
Blackburn, Robert	Indoe, Eva	Repp, Charles
Burr, Betty	Ivie, Bertha	Rice, Richard
DeVoe, Billy	Kaufman, Glen	Strouse, Edward
Duck, Jacklyn	Lentz, Kenneth	Tanner, Ralph
Dull, Donna	McGarvey, Betty	Thompson, Geraldine
Esselburn, Phyllis	Mullet, Elsie	Travis, Betty
Garman, Norma	Newcomer, Betty	Weaver, Ramon
George, Glenna	Norton, Donna	Young, Betty

The thirty-three seventh graders were quite bewildered the first few days of school trying to find the rooms to which they were assigned. But soon they became adjusted and found their way around. They were quite enthused over being permitted to join the Jr. G. R. and Jr. Hi. Y. Clubs. The first semester the students very eagerly studied science, so they would be able to take Home Ec. and Industrial Arts the last semester. On December 22, the class held a Christmas party in the Home Ec. room.

Sixth Grade-Miss Blust

Bittner, Bill
Brinker, Phyllis
Cash, Laura
Cook, Helen
Dague, Junior
Gorey, Lois
Hagans, Mary
House, Larry
Knecht, Jolan
McDaniels, Dallas
McDougale, Ada

Moss, Robert
Norton, Philip
Raisig, Bud
Reusch, Norman
Reynolds, Pete
Shriver, Paul
Straub, Pauline
Trukovich, Howard
Underwood, Joyce
Warnes, Gordon
Wilson, John

The sixth grade consists of twenty-five studious pupils. They enjoyed participating in the Fall Fair Parade and the solling of garden seeds. Sixth graders are in the high school band and orchestra. They also have a sextet and ann octet. The pupils are enjoying a new geography text book which has been published since the Pearl Harbor attack and brings their geography study of the world more up to date. One of the greatest projects during the year was a mural, which consisted of schools, art, science, music, beauty and nature.

Fifth Grade-Miss Edwards

Cash, Donald
Crum, James
Flanagan, Onalee
Ginter, Doris
Harris, Patsy
Hartzell, Gordon
Hershberger, Harold
Indoe, Anita

Nell, Betty
Repp, Donald
Repp, Lucille
Rice, Franklin
Stanley, June
Travis, Betty
Weimer, Charlot
Whitacre, Claude
Whitmore, Bernard
Wohlford, Max
Zimmerman, George

The fifth grade pupils made a mural of the story of machines on land, on the sea and in the air, which was a social science project. Patsy Harris and Jean Mullet made marionettes and produced a play using these puppets for the characters.

Fourth Grade Mrs. Fuller

Blackburn, Sally
Cook, Francis
Eakens, Sonya
Embree, Sheila
Garra, Blake
Gossard, William
Hagans, Dale
Imhoff, Marilyn
Ivie, Earl

Pickering, Gaylord
Ripley, Janice
Spradling, Viola
Sterzer, Donald
Travis, Robert
Underwood, Robert
Warner, Lester Jr.
Warner, Richard
Yoxtheimer, James
Yost, James
Ziegler, Danny

The fourth grade had an enrollment of thirty-five at the beginning of the school year, of which twenty-seven remain. They enjoyed Halloween, Christmas and Valentine parties by their teacher. As geography projects the students made a display of ideas on the Congo Valley and of Mexico. They also made Egyptian scrolls and experimented with picture writing. In their social studies they learned of man from the Cave times to modern times.

Third Grade Miss Grimm

Dague, Ivan
Ginter, Patty
Hershberger, Glenn
Jameyson, Beverly
Jameyson, Donald
Lawton, Martha
Miller, Corwin
Mosher, Margaret
Mullet, Lois
Norris, Virginia
Potts, David

Repp, Marjorie
Rice, Fredrick
Roberts, Dick
Sampsel, Prem
Scott, Charles
Spade, Edward
Stuckey, Martha
Warner, Joan
Warner, John
Wolhford, Marilyn
Yonkers, Beverly

The third grade enjoyed parties at Halloween, Christmas Valentines day. One of the greatest activities of the year was that of each pupil having the opportunity to sell seeds. This project helped develope salesmanship. Dean Weber withdrew from the grade during the year.

Second Grade-Miss Loomis

Benson, George
Botdorf, Bonny
Brainard, Bobby June
Dull, Janice
Flick, Frances
Gossard, Jack
Hein, Jo Ellen
Horner, Anita
Lentz, John

Martin, Sharon
Moss, Don
Orr, Patty
Stuckey, Willard
Weaver, Russell
Whitmore, Helen
Woodward, Derrel
Young, Barbara
Ziegler, Charles

Some of the projects which the second graders worked on were: a Santa Claus Castle, the Fall Fair Parade and the drawing of various nationalities of people. They learned poems and recited them. Each morning as one of the morning excercises a certain pupil was chosen to be "inspector." He inspected each student to find defects, such as dirty handkerchiefs, unpolished shoes, and hair not well groomed. The class enjoyed Halloween, Christmas and Valentine parties at which time they were entertained by their teacher.

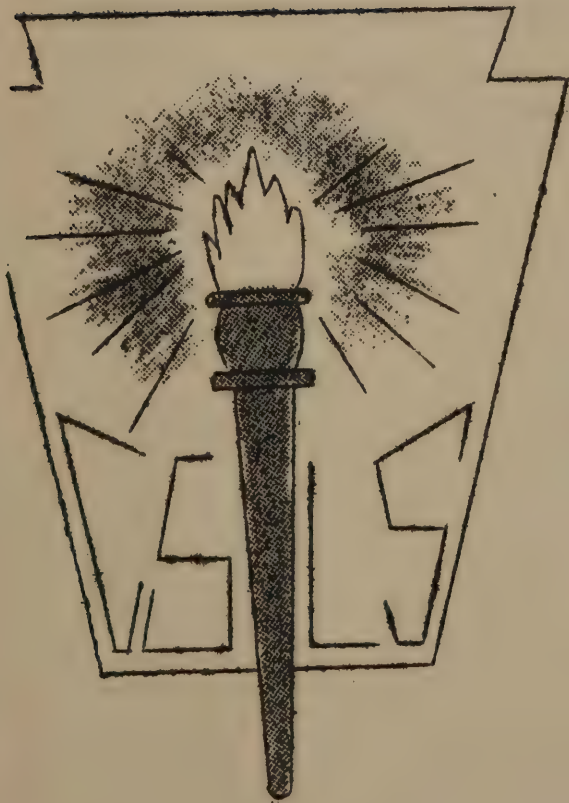

First Grade-Mrs. Hange

Aukerman, Dorothy
Bigley, Leonard
Brainard, Diane
Byers, Richard
Cook, Mary
Dorosky, Judy

Shoemaker, Nancy
Slater, John
Snader, Dick
Travis, Don
Underwood, Sandra
Warner, Patty
Weimer, Dale
Winkler, Wilma
Woodward, Patsy
Yonkers, Eva
Yost, Jack

The first graders wrote to several classmates who were ill during the year. They were entertained at Halloween, Christmas and Valentine parties by their teacher. Each day they spent a short time playing games in their room before going home. The following pupils have withdrawn during the year: Norman Massie, Phyllis Shaw and Robert Cooper.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

President-----Joe Toth
Vice President-----Necia McClain
Secretary-----Nancy Braden
Treasurer-----Phyllis McClain
Advisor-----Miss Pearl Eppley

The aim of the National Honor Society is to make good citizenship in high schools a matter of distinction. To become a member of this society one must possess not only scholarship but the qualities of leadership, service, and character.

The project for this year was to plan assembly programs. One of the programs consisted of having Mrs. Waite for a guest speaker. Two other assemblies were basketball games between two girl teams and between the Varsity and Reserve, boy's teams. Another assembly was presented by the speech class.

Four new members were taken into the Society this year making a total of eleven members. These eleven members are:

Caroline Lorenzen
Phyllis McClain
Frances Ballard
Olga Pidzyraylo
Rose Pidzyraylo
Necia McClain
Charles Burkey
Nancy Braden
Edgar Snell
Lois Indoe
Joe Toth

WRITER'S CLUB

Editor-----Sue Crum
Assistant Editor-----Martha Rice
Adviser-----Miss Clift

The Writer's Club is a club for students who are interested in journalism. The club had seventeen members this year and Miss Nellie Clift was the club adviser. The members wrote articles each week which were published in the Lodi Review under "Hilltop Echoes." Every Thursday fourth period the club met to write articles to be sent to the paper.

The members who were faithful in writing their articles received one-fourth of a credit.

The club had a party in February at the home of Marjorie Bowers.

The club reporters are:

Martha Hoffmeister
Harriet Sterzer
Frances Ballard
Marjorie Bowers
Rose Pidzyraylo
Robert Evanish
Phyllis Yergin
Donna Bachtel
Duane Houston
Robert Howell
Bert Humbel
Pat Grannis

DRAMATIC CLUB

President-----Edgar Snell
Vice President-----Betty Fetzer
Secretary-----Marjorie Bowers
Treasurer-----Donald Hoge
Adviser-----Miss Mowery

The activities for the club were wide and covered much territory. The year began with a lively Get Together Meeting for the old and new members that consisted of a hay ride and weiner roast.

The Dramatic Club had its regular meeting on the last Monday in every month with a program and refreshment committee for each meeting.

The members of the club who served on the program committees gave the speeches for the meetings which consisted of talks on how to direct plays, art of make-up, how to make a stage set, and many other interesting topics.

The highlights of the year were the two public programs: At Cristmas time the pageant "The Light of the World" was presented and the annual play "Arsenic and Old Lace" was given March 31.

The meeting of the club in May was the annual "guest night" at which time prospective members and friends of the club members were entertained.

SENIOR HI-Y

President-----Gale Williamson
Vice President-----Donald Hoge
Secretary-----Edgar Snell
Treasurer-----Joe Warner
Advisers-----Rev. Shoemaker
Mr. Wood

The Senior Hi-Y held several social meetings besides its regular monthly business meetings during the year. A Father and Son Get-Together was one of the main events. The club members also went to Mansfield and made a tour of the Boy's State Reformatory. (They all returned!)

The annual Girl Reserve--Hi-Y supper was another important social affair which the boys help sponsor.

The Good Friday service was held at the Methodist Church and was planned and conducted by the members of the club with the assistance of Rev. and Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Hobart.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

President-----Necia McClain
Vice President-----Jean LaPollette
Secretary-----Marjorie Bowers
Treasurer-----Alice Dearth
Inter-Club Council-----Vivian Elliott
Adviser-----Miss Nellie Clift

At the beginning of the year the Hi-Y and Girl Reserves put on an assembly conducted like the regular meetings of each club. Later in the year the girls sponsored two dances, one a Hallowe'en Masquerade and the other a Christmas Dance.

On January 29, eleven Lodi G. R. girls attended the Girl Reserve Conference in Cleveland. This was one of the largest groups there.

The annual G. R.--Hi-Y supper was held on March 23 and a hilarious time was had by all.

The year ended with a Pot-Luck Supper with the girls' mothers invited and a picnic supper at the Roadside Park.

President	Mary Jane Bartholomai
Vice President	Vera Flanagan
Secretary	Betty Berry
Treasurer	Dolores Horner
Program Chairman	Phyllis Esselburn
Music Chairman	Dolores Jamison
Inter-Club Council	Betty Mullet
Advisor	Mrs. Hange

One in-school meeting and a social meeting were held each month. These social meetings included a Valentine's Day party, a tea for the Mothers held in the cafeteria, and several dinners.

In order to collect money for the club, every girl was assessed a penny for every inch that her waistline measured.

For the community project the members of the club got together and packed about twenty boxes of candy, and cookies which they sent to the boys in service.

The Junior Girl Reserves has an enrollment of thirty-nine girls. They are as follows:

Mary Jane Bartholmai	Elsie Mullet
Geraldine Thompson	Neysa Neenan

THE ART CLASS

The Art Classes have been doing figure drawing, this year. Many have been working in water color and oil paint of the head or full figure. They have also been working in clay.

Fifty pieces of work were entered in the District Scholastic Contest at Halle Bros., Steinway Hall, in Cleveland. Out of the fifty pieces eighteen were accepted for exhibit. Phylliss Newcomer captured second prize and received ten dollars on a figure drawing. There were several honorable mentions: Joanne Smith, Dan Haller, Helen Clinker, in figure drawing, and Nancy Worden, one in a still life in oil. All eighteen pieces went to the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh for the June exhibit there.

All students had work exhibited for the night of April 14, which was Open House. In the forenoon of the 13th they had a luncheon and Mrs. Harris Waite criticized the exhibit and also gave a talk about her adventures in art. The faculty was also invited to attend.

The last six weeks were set aside for painting landscapes of various scenes about Lodi, in either oil or water color.

THE CONTATA AND OPEN HOUSE

On April 14, the annual musical program and open house was held along with the dedication of the "Honor Board."

The first event was the dedication address by the President of the School Board, John Rice. Necia McClain, on behalf of the student body, then presented the Honor Board to the school and it was accepted by Mr. Wood.

The mixed chorus sang the Contata, "Spring Cometh", directed by Mrs. Hobart and accompanied by Mrs. Roberts.

The band, directed by Mr. Schwartz, presented its first concert of the year.

The last feature on the program was the "Open House." The displays, consisting of Art, Science, Commercial, Metal and Woodwork, were arranged in the rooms.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The traditional Senior class play entitled "Thumbs Up", was presented on May 12. The play was a story about a patriotic American family who became a little involved with their patriotism.

Tex, the man of the family, because of the father's death, thought that the town needed some new patriotic spirit so he, with his friend Bump, decided to form an underground movement against the uncooperative people of the town. Bama, discovered the plan and before long she with her sister Ida and Ida's friend Lucy had become partners in the underground movement. They became very involved in an affair concerning the law, and poor Mollie was quite beside herself for she knew nothing of what was going on in her own house.

It was all cleared up and the story ended with everyone living happily ever after. The play was directed by Miss Mowrey.

JR.-SR. BANQUET

Aloha, everyone! Such was the greeting which one received upon entering the Hawaiian Room of Lodi High. The gym was beautifully decorated in blue and white with bouquets of the class flower, white carnation, arranged on the banquet tables. The menu was cleverly done in the Hawaiian language.

After the meal the attention of the one hundred guests was turned to the entertainment for the evening. Edgar Snell, president of the junior class served as toast master. Harold Seifert, president of the senior class gave the response. Then short speeches were given by Elizabeth Slater Sam Hall, Sue Crum, Miss Clift and Mr. Wood. Music was provided by the Kealakuk Kuties alias the girls' sextet who sang "Tea for Two." The Kona Kowbys, alias the boys' quartet, sang "I Love Life." The rest of the evening was then given over to dancing to the music of "The Music Makers" of Wadsworth.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The Junior Class Play, "Sound Your Horn," was presented November 19, 1943.

The plot involved Mrs. Van Dyke, who desired her niece and nephew to remain "tied to her apron strings" and Mr. Angus, a dignified, and somewhat absent-minded attorney for Mrs. Van Dyke, who battled Christine for the ownership of a hot-dog stand. At an opportune time Ted, who has broken away from his aunt, went to the stand and was hired as a dispenser by Christine. Love interest was added by Homer and Etta. Homer had a hard time popping the question to Etta and when finally he did, Etta was slow in catching on. Mrs. Van Dyke was finally convinced that she could not hold on to her nephew and decides that it would be best for her to help him and Christine. She had caused trouble for Christine with the townspeople but she soon settled it when she found out how nice Christine was. The curtain came down with Christine as owner of the hot-dog stand and Mrs. Van Dyke as a friend to everyone.

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE

Presented by the Dramatic Club

The annual Dramatic Club play was given March 31, in the high school auditorium. "Arsenic and Old Lace" is the story of the eccentric Brewster family who live in an old house in Brooklyn, New York.

Out of sheer pity for old gentlemen who are alone in the world Martha and Abby give them elderberry wine with just a "pinch of arsenic."

Mortimer, Reverend Doctor Harper, Teddy, Elaine, Officers Brophy, Klein, O'Hara, and Rooney, Mr. Gibbs, Jonathan, Dr. Einstein and Mr. Witherspoon are the other characters who frolic through three acts. In the end they find themselves either going to be married, going to jail or leaving for Happy Dale Sanitarium.

A new stage set constructed by the Industrial Arts class helped to make the play a success. The production was directed by Miss Mowrey.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Christmas Pageant

On the night of December 21, 1943 a pageant, "The Light of the World", was given in the high school auditorium. The pageant was divided into five scenes. The first was the Prophecy of the Coming of the Messiah; the second, the Manger Scene at Bethlehem; third, the Vision of Isaiah; fourth, the Light of Bethlehem spreading into All of the World; lastly, the Consecration and Coronation.

The program ended with the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Silent Night" by the Mixed Chorus.

RECOGNITION PROGRAM

A recognition program, which was somewhat different from any program that has been done for several years, was held, Friday evening, May 19. The program was planned to give recognition to the students who have done outstanding work in club activities and organizations and to those who have done credible work in any one particular field.

The High School orchestra directed by Mr. Behrens and the Boys' Glee Club coached by Mrs. Hobart provided the music for the program.

To attend school without missing a day is really something to be proud of and certainly worth special recognition; and at this program these students were presented with certificates by Mr. Wood.

On April 28 the entire school grades one through twelve, took a state spelling test and the winners were presented with a blue or white ribbon according to their merit.

The boys basketball teams were next in line for recognition. The awards were given as follows: Senior players, Gold Basketballs; Junior players, Varsity Letters; Sophomores, Reserve Letters; Freshmen, Numerals.

An "L" Club for girls was formed this year to give the girls from grades seven to twelve a chance to earn letters. The girls who succeeded were presented with letters by Mrs. Jones, the sponsor of the club. Those who received them were: Sue Crum, Junior; Pat Grannis, Sophomore; Mary Jane Bartholmai, Freshman; Betty Berry, Eighth Grade.

Last year an Honor Society was developed in our school. At this program the members were introduced to the public by Mr. Wood, who gave a brief outline of the qualifications and purpose of the organization.

On April 28 the county scholarship tests were given here at school. The scholarship teams were called upon and each one was introduced to the public.

The county music awards were presented to those who have been interested in music and have taken part in musical organizations and have earned enough points to be eligible for an "A", "B", or "C" award.

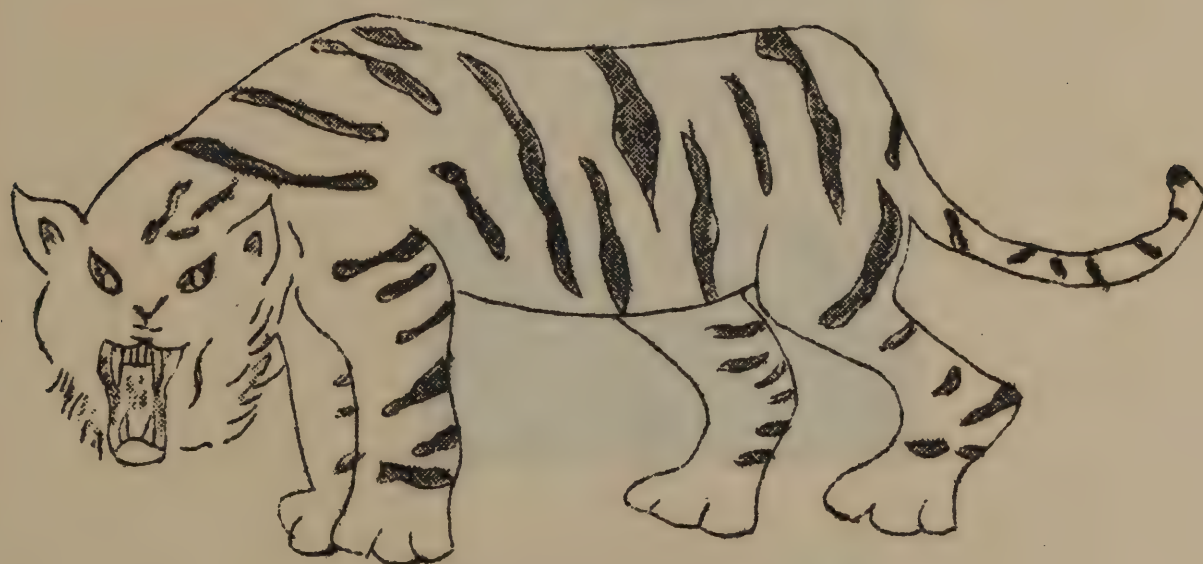

Several other recognitions were made to students whom the teachers felt had done outstanding work this year.

The main purpose of the program was to show to the parents the worthwhile things that are accomplished at school and to give them an opportunity to be proud of their children.

C. J. LINDECAMP

We wish to dedicate our sports section to Mr. Lindecamp, who took over the varsity teams this year and guided them through successful seasons.

Mr. Lindecamp came here four years ago as a science and mathematics instructor. During his first three years he assisted with the athletic program, first as Junior High coach of basketball and baseball, and last year as reserve basketball coach.

This year he coached the varsity baseball and basketball teams and the reserves basketball team. The varsity teams have won 20, lost 4 and have 4 games to play. The total record for the year including varsity and reserves is 35 games won and 5 lost.

Mr. Lindecamp's four year record with Lodi teams is 53 games won and 14 lost.

VARSlTY

With no regulars back from last year's team, the Varsity opened its season November 20 against Brunswick. The inexperienced squad dropped the first game by one point. They bounced back from that defeat to hand Litchfield a terrific trouncing in the second game, and then went on to win fifteen consecutive games including a decisive win over Brunswick.

With a season record of fifteen wins and one loss, the Tigers of Lodi entered the Medina County Tournament, overwhelming favorites to win. But in the first game they suffered an "off night" and lost in the last thirty seconds by one point to Sharon Center, a team which they had previously defeated easily. Leroy, tournament winners, were also twice victims of the rampaging Tigers.

Other high spots of the season were two victories over Medina and a decisive win over Wellington. Lodi scored a total of 617 points for an average of 36.3 points per game. Their opponents scored 381 points for an average of 22.3 points per game.

Following are the scores for the season:

Lodi	28	29	Brunswick	Lodi	35	16	Seville
Lodi	48	23	Litchfield	Lodi	36	17	Brunswick
Lodi	45	36	Sharon Center	Lodi	29	28	Medina

RESERVES

The Reserves began their season with four men back from last year's squad, plus a bunch of hopefuls from last year's eighth grade team. These were further supplemented by Jim LaFollette from Ashley, Kenny Wood from Wakeman, and Tom Sabo and Frank Szikula from Lafayette. With this "power house," the Reserves barely won their first game by one point. After the first game, they picked up momentum and bowled over fourteen consecutive opponents including Medina. But in the return game with Medina, the young Tigers suffered their first defeat by two points in an overtime game. In the last game of the season, the Reserves recovered, their form and handed a big Wellington reserve team a terrible beating.

Following are the scores for the season:

Lodi	18	17	Brunswick
Lodi	16	4	Litchfield
Lodi	17	15	Sharon Center

Baseball

The high school baseball team played an eleven game schedule in two parts, three games in the fall and eight games in the spring. Due to the lack of a baseball diamond in Lodi, all of the games were played away from home. In spite of the handicap of having no home field on which to practice or play, the boys won 2 out of 3 in the fall and 4 out of 5 to date in the spring for a total of 6 out of 8, with 3 games to play.

Following is a list of the players and scores of the games:

Players	Positions Played

MUSIC ACTIVITIES

MUSIC

Have you ever heard the old proverb "practice makes perfect"? Well the students of Lodi High who are interested in music are not to be out-done. The two glee clubs, mixed chorus, band, orchestra, the sextet and the quartet are the seven musical groups that have been organized to give our musically-minded students a few periods a week to enjoy music.

Monday morning generally finds the students rather slow on the come-back in the class rooms but by the fourth period eighty-five are plenty wide awake--and why not? It is time for Mixed Chorus and the smile and the cheerful "Good Morning" from Mrs. Mildred Hobart. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the chorus this year was the presentation of a cantata entitled, "Spring Cometh", given April 14. To handle eighty-five people and produce the work that she does is not an easy task, but that is not all, Mrs. Hobart also has our Boys' Glee Club, consisting of twenty four voices, on Wednesday.

The Girls' Glee Club which slightly out numbers the Boys' ("quality rather than quantity" is an old, worn-out saying!) consists of fifty-six voices and is under the direction of Miss Mary L. Strock.

Tuesday brings the sound of tuning "fiddles", brass and woodwinds, and, of course, we recognize the music of the Orchestra which this year has been under the direction of Mr. F. W. R. Behrens. Because of his full schedule, Mrs. Behrens has stepped in and helped him out by giving violin and piano lessons.

Our Band this year is slightly smaller than it has been in past years. It is composed of nearly all new members and has a new director, Mr. Philip Swartz. Stepping into a new position and having a band made up of new members is no small task but Mr. Swartz has done a fine job nevertheless.

When the Juniors started making plans for their banquet in the spring they asked if it might be possible to form a quartet and sextet to sing at the banquet. Mrs. Hobart selected a quartet of boys and worked with them and Miss Strock organized a sextet of girls that, before the banquet had made several other appearances.

We are indeed proud of our music activities and wish to thank Mrs. Hobart, Miss Strock, Mr. Behrens, Mrs. Behrens, and Mr. Swartz for the time and effort they have spent in our behalf this year.
